

Dear Ram,

I am the Self, awareness, the infinite boundless Self. I am the Self. It is nothing but me who is always here, forever here, the loving endlessly loving me. Nothing separates me from me, from love, from peace. I am love. I am peace. Knowing this, all doubts disappear like clouds in the sky. Ignorance disappears as a real world. A beautiful epiphany that is sweet, sour or bitter seems so real but it never lasts.

So, my dear friend, if you discriminate the real from the unreal, you are always be free, boundless and in peace. It is ignorance that makes you believe it is not so. Knowledge, all one, opens the eyes to the truth.

I am deeply grateful that I met you, dear Ramji, for sharing Vedanta which is nothing but love!

Something has changed since Tiru. Even if it seems that actually everything is the same like it always is, something has changed...and this is very important...the feeling of loneliness and the longing have disappeared. And, most important, there is a new clarity about my perspective. Being awareness, the Self, gives me all the fulfillment. Good news!

My meditation group is doing fine. I am much more clear about the means, the karma Yoga, the Vasanas and the standing point. The people are asking good questions. Vedanta is a great help. So, of course, for me there is a lot more to learn, for making things clear and transparent. This is a great adventure. Feedbacks are astonishingly good. This is all a great gift from Bhagavan and of course from my Ramji, big chief. Oh, thanks so much!

Om,

Deena
