Seeker: Hi, James. I came across you and ShiningWorld at the Conscious TV site. Visiting ShiningWorld, I found Vedanta in an accessible form. "Thank you" says it all. After years of gathering, Vedanta was the plan for assembly, a comb through tangled hair. All my life was spent lost, trying to find a way home, wandering here and there. Vedanta seems to be the way home at last.

It's like rajas is polishing off tamas with the polish of Vedanta to reveal a mind that is filled with awareness. It always has been, but somehow Vedanta has produced the clarity of mind needed to recognize truth.

Thanks again.
