Steve: Hi, James. It was lovely to read your blog and to see that you are married. Congratulations to you both.

All is going well with me, all the drama has disappeared from my life and now I live simply. Even though everything in my life is the same – family, mortgage, lack of money, etc. – I am at ease and know that I am the self. I am studying the Gita and the Mandukya Upanishad and have a great appetite for the traditional teachings. Thanks for everything, my life has truly transformed since seeing you. Vedanta rocks!
