Rheinhardt: Hi, James. I just want to say “thank you” for the wonderful seminar at Ammersee. I think as long as you teach, I’m going to come. As a good old German philosopher with idealistic and melancholic vasanas, it’s not that hard for me to understand Vedanta as a concept, but it is more difficult to understand karma and bhakti yoga. Your words about this topic were wonderful as ever.

I’m just saying “thank you” to Isvara nearly every minute, that he/she/it led me to Vedanta. It really works. Since one year, nearly no more questions. With every day more understanding about karma and bhakti yoga grows.

Actually, there’s nothing more to say, but gratitude is never boring.

I’m watching the jiva frog jumping from state to state. It is so funny... I wish you and your wife the best.
