Rheinhold: Dear Ram, my name is Rheinhold. A few days ago I was sitting to the left in front of you in Frankfurt, the guy with the long hair and glasses. I also attended your teaching one year ago. I know you have much to do, so I don't want to disturb you with my story. But there is a strong urge to have a short contact with you.

It was a fantastic year for me. Your book, the satsang section at ShiningWorld.com and your voice at YouTube gave me what I was looking for my whole life. I have studied philosophy, especially Immanuel Kant, so I already knew that there is the self which is free of all. This thought brought happiness to my life years ago. But Vedanta is the big one. Actually, there is nothing more to say about this.

With the help of you and especially the teaching of Vedanta I will come home, I know. This is not meant as a dualistic statement.

It's amazing how beautiful the self is. It's amazing how simple is the light that shines on everything.

I hope I will see you again, maybe in Switzerland or India or wherever.

~ Best wishes, Rheinhold
